This Resident Contract ("Contract") is between Florida International University Board of Trustees ("FIU" or "University") on behalf of the Florida International University Herbert Wertheim College of Medicine ("HWCUM") and {FirstName} {LastName}, { Degree } ("Resident"). In consideration of the mutual promises and conditions set forth in this Contract, University and Resident agree as set forth below.

This Contract governs the relationship between the University and Resident in conjunction with regulations, policies and procedures of the University, that are not otherwise modified by the policies in the GME Manual, the HWCUM including, and the hospitals and clinical sites to which the Resident is assigned (collectively "Assigned Site"), and applicable accrediting agencies. The Resident agrees to abide by all the terms and conditions in this Contract.

- I. University Appointment: Resident accepts this full-time (1.0 FTE) appointment to a {PGY}-{{Level}} in the University's {Training Program} ("Program") which is approved by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education ("ACGME"). This Contract is contingent upon the Resident successfully completing all background check/drug testing process (including drug testing) as set forth in the GME Manual and any background check process (including drug testing) required by the Assigned Site.

- A. Duration of Appointment: This Contract is from {Start date} through {End Date} ("Contract Year"). The first two weeks of this Contract will be an orientation period.

The Resident will be evaluated periodically throughout the Contract year. Notwithstanding the Contract Year, and subject to the FIU GME Resident Promotion and Appointment Renewal Policy, this Contract may be renewed or terminated, in writing, upon recommendation by the FIU Program Director and at any time until the Program is successfully completed. The terms and conditions of renewal and non-renewal are described in the GME Manual. The terms and conditions of the Contract for future academic years may change at the University's sole discretion and/or as required by the ACGME.

- B. Resident Responsibilities: The position of Resident involves a combination of supervised, progressively more complex and independent patient evaluation, management functions and formal educational activities. The Resident is expected to fulfill the following personal, educational, and administrative responsibilities as set forth in Exhibit A.

- C. Compensation: The University agrees to compensate the Resident during the Contract period at the rate of ${Salary} per annum. The Resident will be paid on a bi-weekly basis in accordance with the University's payroll schedule. The compensation paid to the Resident includes the following:

- 1) Meal Allowance: The meal allowance may be used to purchase meals while on shift.
- 2) Parking: Parking may be provided at Assigned Site at no cost to the Resident.
- 3) Professional Education Allowance: The professional development allowance may be used for attending educational conference, obtaining books or educational materials, or for other professional development activities or purchases.

Reimbursements: Reimbursement will not be available for expenses incurred as a result of travel to and from the Assigned Site and the University. In addition, the University will not provide the Resident with reimbursement for initial relocation expense or provide any housing subsidy.

- 4) University Benefits: The University will provide the following benefits to Resident.
 - a) Health, Disability, Life and Other Related Health Coverages: At the conclusion of the orientation period, the University will offer the Resident and his/her eligible dependents with medical, dental, vision, basic life, short- and long-term disability, and certain other supplemental insurance coverages as described under State Group Insurance Program in accordance with FIU's group health benefit options. Short- and long-term disability will be provided by the University in accordance with the external policy in place.
 - b) Retirement Benefits:
 1. The State of Florida Optional Retirement Program (ORP): <https://hr.fiu.edu/employees-affiliates/benefits/>. Note that three percent of the biweekly salary will be deducted for the ORP plan. The State of Florida pays into the ORP at the current rate of 5.14% of the biweekly salary which is subject to change pursuant to the terms and conditions of the ORP Plan Documents. More information may be obtained at: https://www.dms.myflorida.com/workforce_operations/retirement/optional_retirement_plans/state_university_system_optional_retirement_program
 2. Voluntary Retirement Plans (403(b)/457): <https://hr.fiu.edu/employees-affiliates/benefits/>
 - c) Other Available University Benefits: The University also offers the following additional benefits and perks:
 1. Tuition Waiver Program: <https://policies.fiu.edu/files/64.pdf>
 2. Employee "perks" and services: <https://hr.fiu.edu/employees->

3. Office of Employee Assistance: <https://hr.fiu.edu/employees-affiliates/assistance-wellness/>
 4. Panther Active Wellness Services: <https://hr.fiu.edu/employees-affiliates/assistance-wellness/>
- d) Professional Liability Coverage: Florida law affords immunity from personal liability for FIU healthcare providers when their care and treatment of patients becomes the subject of a claim or lawsuit provided certain criteria. FIU healthcare providers will not be held personally liable for medical negligence, if the negligent act or omission occurred while the healthcare provider was acting within the scope of the Resident's FIU employment. FIU has a Self-Insurance Program ("SIP") to address these claims provided the SIP procedures. The SIP also affords Resident professional liability protection in certain circumstances when they act in the role of a "Good Samaritan." See the GME Manual for details regarding these professional liability coverages.

When providing professional services to Veterans covered by this agreement, properly appointed faculty members (except those providing services under a contract with VA) and properly appointed trainees of the Institution are protected from personal liability by the Federal Employees Liability Reform and Tort Compensation Act 28 U.S.C. 2679 (b)-(d). The liability, if any, of the United States for injury or VA FORM 10-9055 AUGUST 2018 PAGE 6 OF 8 loss of property, or personal injury or death shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of the Federal Tort Claims Act.

- e) Vacation and Leaves of Absence: The FIU HWCOP provides the Resident up to twenty (20) days of paid vacation time and ten (10) Wellness days per academic year as well as opportunities for leaves of absences (e.g., parental, Family and Medical Leave Act). See GME Manual for more details. This leave is available to the Resident on the first day of the Contract. The Resident is not entitled to any pay out for an unused leave by the termination of the Contract.

The Vacation and Leaves of Absence Policy provides details on the effect that a leave of absence will have on the Resident's ability to satisfy the requirements for the Program completion. If a leave of absence extends beyond the time allotted by the specialty specific medical board, an extension of the Program may occur at the direction of the Program Director.

II. Other Important Policies

The GME Manual provides a wealth of important information to make the Resident successful. As a requirement of this Program, the Resident is required to abide by all provisions in the GME Manual including the following (which is not an exhaustive list).

- A. Work Site Hours: The GME Manual delineates the clinical and educational work hours.
- B. Moonlighting: Resident may not participate in outside employment (or moonlighting) except as outlined in the GME Manual and the applicable policies and procedures of the Assigned Site individual training program. Please note that any practice of medicine outside of the Contract is not within the scope of the FIU employment and is not covered through the SIP.
- C. Physician Impairment and Substance use: The University is a Drug Free Workplace as outlined in the GME Manual. As a condition of this Contract, the Resident consents to participate in any substance use testing conducted either by the University and/or the Assigned Site.
- D. Grievance and Due Process: The procedure and specific directions for filing a grievance are found in the GME Manual.

III. Other Important Considerations:

- A. Eligibility for Specialty Board Examination: Board examination eligibility for Residents will be determined at the completion of the Program. Eligibility may be delayed by leaves of absence that result in an extension of training. The Program Director will provide a final written summative evaluation of Resident performance as documentation of Resident's professional ability to practice in the designated area of specialization without supervision.
- B. Right to Modify: The University reserves the right to make changes without notice at any point to this Contract or any aspect of the Program.

C. Entire Contract: This Contract, including all attachments and exhibits hereto, constitutes the entire agreement between the Resident and the University and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous oral or written agreements (including any prior year contracts or appointments) or understandings between the University and Resident.
