Overview and Purpose

The Omar Pasalodos, M.D., Memorial Lecture is held annually to honor Dr. Pasalodos' dedication to women's healthcare, community outreach and education. Each year a nationally recognized speaker addresses current and important women's healthcare issues.

Target Audience

Obstetricians, Gynecologists, Gynecologic Oncologists, Gynecologic Surgeons, Primary Care Physicians, Physician Assistants, Nurses, Nurse Practitioners, Residents, Medical School Students, Social Workers, Radiologic Technologists, Sonographers, Laboratory Personnel and Female Professionals from the community – all with a common interest in improving women's healthcare issues.

Educational Objectives

Upon completion of this lecture, participants should be better able to:

- Recognize the critical role of genetics in cancer pathogenesis.
- Explain the evolution of cancer genomics, and the role of genomic medicine in cancer treatment, prognosis, and diagnosis.
- Evaluate gynecologic and breast cancers based on their genomic architecture rather than site of origin.

In Memoriam

Dr. Omar Pasalodos, a beloved, longtime member of the Baptist Health family, was a highly regarded physician leader, a dedicated philanthropist and a devoted husband and father. As an obstetrician-gynecologist and civic leader, Dr. Pasalodos dedicated his career to caring for his patients, education and advocacy, and his volunteer leadership. He exemplified the best in medicine.

As a member of the medical staff at Baptist Hospital, Dr. Pasalodos served on the Medical Board and as chief of obstetrics and gynecology. At the time of his death, he was chief medical officer for Baptist Health's International Division. Among his community and philanthropic work, he was chairman of Florida International University's Herbert Wertheim College of Medicine's Dean's Advisory Council. In addition, he was a director of Doctors Hospital Foundation and a member of the Baptist Health International Advisory Board, Coral Gables War Memorial Youth Center, Health Foundation of South Florida, Miami Obstetrical and Gynecological Society and the William A. Little Society of University of Miami Alumni.

Parking

Special-event parking will be available in the employee parking garage, which is located across from the Victor E. Clarke Education Building.
